

IT & TELECOMS RECRUITMENT

Volt IT & Telecoms have been providing technical staff at all levels and across all industry sectors throughout Europe since 1978. Our extensive local experience combined with the backing of a global parent company, who have been successfully delivering recruitment solutions since 1950, means you can trust Volt to understand your business needs and source the best people for your organisation.

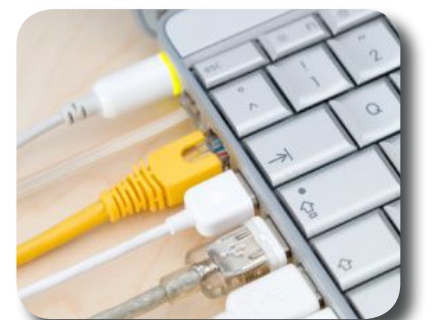

Volt have over 30 years experience of sourcing the highest calibre IT & Telecommunications staff. We strive to continually build on this success, which is based upon years of research, practical application and best practices. Our specialist teams provide innovative staffing solutions across a wide range of industries and skill areas. As technology has evolved and developed, so have our recruitment processes.

Each of our clients has a dedicated Account Manager supported by a recruiting team who are specialists in specific skills and application areas. This enables us to select the most able and appropriate candidates for you. Our highly trained and motivated recruitment teams' knowledge of the industry, market trends and rates combined with their technical expertise and pro-active, customer-centric attitudes ensures that we provide you with the right people at the right time.

Our service offering includes pre-interview technical testing and screening interviews. This ensures a more focussed and efficient recruitment process with reduced disruption for our clients.

We provide contract/temporary and permanent staff for the full range of IT & Telecommunications skills. Whether you need technical expertise, software development skills or information management resources from first line technical support through to board level directors, we will provide precisely the skills and experience you need. In addition to delivering pure IT & Telecommunications resources, as the IT sector is a core focus for Volt, we also supply other skill sets to IT organisations such as procurement, logistics, financial, HR and marketing environment profiles.

Volt's approachable and experienced resources are always pleased to offer you advice and assistance. Whatever your IT or Telecommunications recruitment requirements are, please contact us at one of our offices listed below.
